

Mais qu'est-ce que c'est ?

The image features a rustic wooden frame made of light-colored, weathered planks. Inside the frame, the background is a dark, textured wood. Centered in the frame is text in a bold, orange, sans-serif font with a black drop shadow. The text is arranged in five lines, posing a question about spices and their natural environment.

Qu'est-ce qui sent si bon dans la cuisine?
Ce sont les épices...
Mais sauras-tu les reconnaître
dans leur environnement
naturel ?

C'est le cacao...

... dont on fait le chocolat, bien sûr !

Cannelle

Café

Noix de muscade

Poivre

Safran

Vanille

A close-up photograph of a star anise (badiane) in the center, surrounded by cinnamon sticks and other spices. The background is a warm, golden-brown color with bokeh light effects. The star anise is dark brown and has eight pointed lobes. The cinnamon sticks are light brown and have a rough, textured surface. The overall lighting is soft and warm, creating a cozy and aromatic atmosphere.
